

THE NICENE CREED

The Nicene Creed was composed at the behest of the Emperor Constantine in the town of Nicea in modern day Turkey. Constantine wanted a definitive statement of faith to unite his Empire. The Creed attempts to use Greek Philosophy to explain the mystery of God which in itself is unexplainable. It is the best attempt Christians have made in explaining this mystery but it is wholly inadequate. It is still recited at Mass on Sundays and Holy Days though it did not become part of the Liturgy until around the 11th Century.

We believe in one God,
the Father, the Almighty, maker of heaven and earth,
of all that is, seen and unseen.

We believe in one Lord, Jesus Christ, the only Son of God,
eternally begotten of the Father,
God from God, Light from Light, true God from true God,
begotten, not made,
of one Being with the Father.
Through him all things were made.
For us and for our salvation he came down from heaven:
by the power of the Holy Spirit
he became incarnate from the Virgin Mary, and was made man.
For our sake he was crucified under Pontius Pilate;
he suffered death and was buried.
On the third day he rose again
in accordance with the Scriptures;
he ascended into heaven and is seated at the right hand of the Father.
He will come again in glory to judge the living and the dead,
and his kingdom will have no end.

We believe in the Holy Spirit, the Lord, the giver of life,
who proceeds from the Father (and the Son);
Who with the Father and the Son is worshiped and glorified;
Who has spoken through the Prophets.
We believe in one holy catholic and apostolic Church.
We acknowledge one baptism for the forgiveness of sins.
We look for the resurrection of the dead,
and the life of the world to come.

Amen.
